TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 24, 1886.

POTATOES FROM SCOTLAND.—The Commissioner of Agriculture has recently received from Dundee, Scotland, an invoice of Patterson's famed seedling potatoes, consisting of ten different varieties. It is not the intention of the Commissioner to distribute this lot, as they are for use in the experimental gardens. These potatoes are grown in the Royal Gardens at Windsor, and also by the leading agriculturists and farmers throughout England and various parts of Scotland. It is said that they invariably withstand the attacks of blight, and produce heavier crops of sound tubers than any varieties grown elsewhere. During the season of 1885 the diploma of honor, and prize medal of the Erfurt (Hanover) international exhibition, the chief prize at the Dublin International exhibition, and the society prize medal at the Liverpool and Manchester Agricultural exhibitions at Oldham, were awarded the growers of these potatoes.

TRACITION ENGINES.—An experiment was recently tried in England to ascertain the cost of transporting goods by steam engines on common roads. The work performed was the hauling of three wagons loaded with fifteen tons of lime, sand and coal, twenty-six miles, the entire weight of the train being twenty-one tons. The train occupied twelve hours and a half in the journey, including thirty-three minutes stoppage. This was a speed of two and one-half miles per hour. The coal consumed was 2,576 pounds, and the expense of the journey was, for tolls, $10.54; coal, $6.57; oil and waste, 84 cents; labor, $3.15; wear and tear and in erect, $2.94; total, $23.10. This is equal to a cost of but six cents for moving coal on one mile, nearly one-half of it being tolls collected by the road companies.

BUTLER'S EXAMING.—A New York phenologist has been examining General Butler's head, and has furnished the public, in the shape of a chart of character addressed to that distinguished officer, with the results of the inspection of his cranium. The document is a funny one throughout, but the following extract is especially entertaining:

"You are sure to make what you touch pay. You are an excellent judge of the value of property. Are almost skeptical in matters of religion. Are more radical than conservative, and if ever inclined to be conservative, are so from policy."

Can anybody question that phenology is a science after this?

TROUBLE AMONG THE MORMONS.—The Omaha Republic of the 9th learns that "the greatest excitement prevails among the Mormons, and a fixed determination on their part to drive out or exterminate all Gentiles." Eight men have recently been assassinated, while the editor of the Vidette, with all other Gentiles, has been notified to quit the country, or face worse. The Mormons are noted in Salt Lake City for their intolerance of Gentiles. We wonder if the Gentiles to leave immediately. We wonder if the military will find, ere long, that the sea of war has been transferred from the South to the Land of the Prophets."

LUXURY IN PARIS.—The demand for all articles of luxury was never greater in Paris than it is at present, and shopkeepers are profiting by it to demand extravagant prices. In fact, some of them admit that if they did not ask high prices they would lose their fashionable customers. In many trades the supply is not equal to the demand, and the deficiency of hands requires those employed to work additional hours, for which they are liberally remunerated.
